

Copy

TELEGRAMS, INVERARAY.

12 July 1875.
Casement.

1059/2

Private

TIGH AN RUDHA

INVERARAY

ARGYLL

Rev. & Dear Sir

Whether it is possible for you to convey a message to Mr.
Casement under present circumstances, I don't know.

But having known him in former years, it is a painful thought that anyone in such circumstances should think him or herself forgotten by former friends - so, if it is possible, or in my judgment advisable to convey to him merely the message that I have remembered him daily in Intercession throughout these weeks, I ask you to do so - and that I shall continue to remember him whatever the future has for him to endure. Remind him of the picture he liked of the hills.

By this expression of sympathy in shifting he will not of course but could not imagine that I have felt anything but the deepest regret & honor that he should have acted as he did - that I ask you to tell him is wholly apart from that - & lies beyond & beneath human judgment & human actions & human sin & error.

Just an assurance of remembrance shows how remembrance can always keep.

If he is being ministered to by the Roman Catholic Chaplain I leave it with you to pass on this message as you consider best.

Yours faithfully
Matthew G. Smith

(Address is: Lady Catherine Smith)